

What's Up!

Summer is here and I am glad, from the sounds of it the kids are glad also. I have a lot of fun things planned this year.

For the month of June we are doing projects connected with Ships, pirates, Oceans, and bugs.

We worry about what a child will become tomorrow, yet we forget that he is someone today. ~Stacia Tauscher

Welcome Back!!

We say goodbye

Issak, and Genie

IMPORTANT DATES

I will have a sub coming in periodically the first week of June .

JUNE 11: I WILL BE GONE BUT DAYCARE WILL BE OPEN

Some Thoughts

It is very important for you to let me know when your child will be here or be gone, it takes preparation with projects, meals, and snacks, If you are on a change in schedules I want a weeks notice of days! Thanks

Swim suits

We will start the bonzi and water fun just as soon as it warms up!! I will send out emails so that way you all will be ready. If your child needs sunscreen you need to have a detailed letter and you also need to put how much I am allowed to put on your child for example...Sally needs up to 3tsp of sunblock when she plays outside each day. It's a state law, sorry ☹
